LEARNING TO RUN YOUR NONPROFIT LIKE A BUSINESS
Explore the ways to make your nonprofit successful

FAIRFIELD, Ca – Nonprofit service organizations run much like a business. They prepare budgets, approve fiscal disbursements and ensure the nonprofit’s mission is met – all tasks performed by the nation’s top for-profit companies.

As a result, it’s important for a nonprofit to operate like a business and incorporate the same best practices found in the business world.

On Monday, September 29, 2008 at 9 a.m. to noon, Solano Community Foundation will host a free workshop entitled, “Running a Nonprofit Like a Business” to help lead nonprofits on the path to success. This workshop, geared to those who have their 501c3 status in place, will be held at the Fairfield Civic Center Library, 1150 Kentucky Street, Fairfield.

P.J. Davis, a nationally certified Results Oriented Management and Accountability trainer with more than 15 years of experience in the nonprofit sector, will present the workshop. Participants will be provided with tools and techniques on how to run an agency like a business and will learn how to lift their nonprofit agency from obscurity to success.

The workshop is free with space limited to 30 participants. To register, call Jennifer Bush at 707-399-3846 or register online at www.solanocf.org.

The Solano Community Foundation was established in 1995, incorporated in 2000, and is dedicated to strengthening the community now and for future generations. It is a 501c3 organization that provides the opportunity for donors to make a lasting contribution to causes in Solano County that are close to their hearts. Stephanie Wolf, President & CEO of the Solano Community Foundation, can be reached at 707-399-3846.
